

HKU Faculty of Dentistry produces oral health series in Ming Pao newspaper

As part of its public knowledge exchange campaign to celebrate its Pearl Jubilee, the HKU Faculty of Dentistry published a series of articles on oral health in the Ming Pao newspaper (in Chinese) in June and July 2012.

Written by Faculty academic staff, the six articles aimed to raise awareness of the importance of the life-long maintenance of oral health. The Faculty staff gave practical tips for oral health care and hygiene, with each article focusing on a different sector of the Hong Kong public.

The six newspaper articles are available for free from the “2012 Newspapers” section of the Faculty website’s Media Archive, at: <<http://facdent.hku.hk/engagement/ke/newspaper2012.html>>, with permission from the Ming Pao newspaper.

Individual articles can be viewed by clicking on the titles below; details and expertise areas of the authors can be viewed by clicking on their names:

13 July 2012	Ming Pao: "Tips on oral health and oral care for elders"	Dr Edmond HN Pow
6 July 2012	Ming Pao: "Tips on oral health and oral care for pregnant women"	Prof Li-jian Jin
